While we've been busy building houses, we've also been busy building our new website featuring one of our more recent Rappahannock County, VA projects. The beautiful images are by Shealah Craighead Photography.

Please feel free to send us an email on the "Contact Us" page to give us some feedback on the site, or request information about how we can help you with your building or renovation project.

And please return to this blog or subscribe to our RSS feed to have blog updates sent right to your inbox!
